

A diagram showing a converging lens (biconvex shape) with a red arrow representing an incident light ray from the left. The ray passes through the lens and is refracted to converge at a point on the right side of the lens, labeled as the focal point.

UPDATED UPTO SEPTEMBER, 2001